NATURE

RHIZO HEALTH

A 100% natural product extracted from African forest soil, isolated in perfect earth for a period, then precipitated and re-sequenced the way nature intended.

OUR ORIGINS:

In the 1960s, a group of Italian scientists were given the task of finding out what in soil, specifically the rizosphere, was responsible for soil health.

After altering the product for hygiene purposes, our company launched a Veterinarian range, which is currently being used all over the world.

Ingredients:

- Organic soil carbons
Includes natural bio compound
- Naturally processed enzymes
Enzymes from beneficial bacteria
- Humus extract
Extracted from virgin soil
- Molasses
Keeps organic compounds suspended

After 35 years of research, the natural combination of organic carbons, with its biological compounds including enzymes and fungi, was ready for application in the agricultural and environmental remediation field.

Human testing started in South Africa after the product was centrifuged and purified. RHIZO HEALTH was born.

In early 2000, we started to notice that farmers were using our natural product to also treat their animals for severe infections. After years of hearing of this, a decision was taken to run testing under the supervision of registered Veterinarians.

Rhizo Health has successfully alleviated many illnesses such as: Gout and inflammation, ulcers and heartburn, wound infection, lung infection, athlete's foot and many others. It does this simply by boosting your body's immune system in a natural way.
